

Expectations for Parents

Research shows that children whose families are involved in their education do better in school. Become active now at the preschool level and continue as your child enters elementary school, middle school, and high school.

Parents and families of children in Rapid City Starting Strong will:

- Be treated with respect by all Starting Strong Rapid City partners;
- Be made to feel welcome in the classroom and at all functions;
- Receive regular updates on their child's progress;
- Know that information about their family and child will be kept confidential.
- Ensure that your child attends preschool regularly and on time;
- Attend all parent meetings;
- Attend all parent/teacher conferences;
- Work with staff to set goals for their child.

Starting Strong Rapid City recognizes that parents and families are the strongest supporters of their children and encourages involvement as advocates for their children.
